The Prairie Light Review

Volume 33 Number 1

Article 63

10-1-2011

When I Love a Real Lover

Amany Al-Hallaq College of DuPage

Follow this and additional works at: http://dc.cod.edu/plr

Recommended Citation

Al-Hallaq, Amany (2011) "When I Love a Real Lover," The Prairie Light Review: Vol. 33: No. 1, Article 63. Available at: $\frac{http:}{dc.cod.edu/plr/vol33/iss1/63}$

This Selection is brought to you for free and open access by the College Publications at DigitalCommons@C.O.D.. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Prairie Light Review by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@C.O.D.. For more information, please contact koteles@cod.edu.

When I Love a Real Lover

Amany Al-Hallaq

When I love a lover, I feel that I have inherited the whole universe. I boil down all of jasmine's essence in my heart.

When I love a lover, I turn out to be a passionate fragrance in a perfume vial. I become verses in the seas of your poetry.

When I love a real lover, all the world's flowers follow me to inhabit my soul and forget all times.

Sound A Heart Makes

Rebecca Pappas

I asked you what we were, You said we were nothing You can't break what never was,

Just because you didn't speak the facts out loud Doesn't erase their existence Denial was just a quieter way to lie,

It doesn't mean we weren't anything Because we were definitely something,

But if you can't break what never was, That must be why a heart makes no noise When it Cracks.