ISSC applications available in K-157

Illinois State Monetary Grant applications for the academic year 1972-73 may be picked up in the Financial Aid office, K-157. Deadlines for applications are Feb. 1, April 1 and June 1.

The sooner a student applies, the earlier he will hear whether he has received one of the grants. The Financial Aid office strongly recommends students apply before the Feb. 1 deadline to be considered. Many community college students lost out last year as monies ran out after the April 1 deadline.

As tuition and costs mount for college students, more students should be interested in applying for these awards. Based on the average family income in this area, the Financial Aid office feels that a third of all full-time students should be eligible to receive ISSC Monetary Grants if they and their parents would only complete the application.

In 1969-70, 115 students received awards. In 1970-71, 236 students received awards. This year more than 350 students are attending College of DuPage with the help of ISSC Grants.

If you are interested in applying for one of these grants for next year, or if you were one of the many students who came to the Financial Aid office in dire financial straits for tuition money at the time of registration for winter quarter, come to K-157 to pick up an application.

Students now attending under ISSC should be receiving their renewal grant applications for 1972-73 directly from the Scholarship Commission.

Student action line seeks ideas, gripes

In an attempt to find out the concerns of the students on this campus, Student Government is announcing a communication campaign to take place in the classrooms as well as in The Courier.

For a long time now, student government personnel have been frustrated in their attempts to communicate with students on a personal, word-of-mouth level. There simply haven't been enough people involved, nor has there been enough available time to make this technique effective.

For these reasons, the theme of this campaign will be "silent communication." All or most concerns, gripes, suggestions, congratulations, note memos and questions will be directed to Student Government by means of classroom blackboards. A space will be set aside for this purpose and students will be asked to write their questions, etc. in this space along with the date. The representatives from the student council will then make rounds to the classrooms in their respective college, taking down the concerns so that they may be acted on, not just filed somewhere.

Responses to the questions or gripes will appear in that same space as soon as possible. Questions asked that may be pertinent to many students will hopefully be published in The Courier along with Student Governments' actions or answers. It is hoped that enough student response will be forthcoming to warrant a "Student Action Line" which would appear in The Courier every week.

This technique should eliminate the problem or nobody being around, or nobody to tell your gripes to. Hopefully this will lay a strong foundation for a different means of communications. Students have realized that the old way just didn't work, and Student Government has finally realized this also. If you have something worth communicating, you now have an effective means to do so.

Jam Band performs Jan. 7 in Center

Conqueror Worm, a hard rock group, and Mike Quartro and the Jam Band will appear in the Campus Center at 8 p.m. Friday, Jan. 7. Advance tickets to CD

$10 loans now available

Students may now obtain $10 loans at no interest and with a two-week payback period from the Student Government Office, N4, Room 7.

Borrowers must be students at College of DuPage. Whether a student is part-time, full-time or satellite student makes no difference, according to Student Government.

A cash fund of $200 has been arranged. This means that 20 students can be served at one time. As loans are repaid within a two week period, that money becomes available for lending, it was explained.

students will be $2, and the price at the door will be $2.50.

According to a new policy, anyone buying tickets must have a college or high school identification card and is limited to the purchase of two tickets.

The new Conqueror Worm, a trio (organized the summer of '70) retains Paul Suszynski (guitar and vocals) and his brother Michael (organ, keyboard-piano bass, harp and vocals) of the original group. They are teamed with Bill Sosin, formerly of Frogg. The three write and arrange. Their music engulfs rock, jazz, country, blues, classical and even soul.

Two new musicians who recently joined the group are Ty Scott Wiggins and John Rugis. The group starts its act as a trio, and for the last half of their performance, play as a five piece.

Mike Quarto and the Jam Band have been advertised as "performing in person with a little help from his friends." Quarto has a reputation as a fine pianist.

Limit 'Pop' tickets

Only persons with valid college or high school ID cards will be allowed to purchase tickets to Pop Concerts, it was learned Tuesday in a meeting in Dean Paul Harrington's office.

Two tickets per person is the maximum allowed.

The meeting was arranged when Bob Tyler and Dave Redmond, co-chairmen of the Pop Concert Committee, became concerned over a rumor that all outside publicity of concerts would be curtailed and be limited to attract only DuPage students.

At the last concert held Dec. 9, some 600 persons stood in the corridors of the M Bldg. after the Siegel - Schwall show sold out. Incidents of unruliness and congestion in the Convocation Center were reported.

Following the concert, Elmer Rosin, chief of security, made the following recommendations: 1) space be made available for a coat room; 2) additional outside police help be added; 3) limit attendance to college students.

"There are problems connected with these concerts, and I think we have to take steps to stop them," said Rosin.

An initial rumor was that the committee limit its spending to $1,000 per concert. Both Tyler and Redmond saw a dismal future to the concerts, thinking that the upcoming Bloodrock concert would drain the budget due to a lack of publicity to other schools.

But Dean Harrington told them that ticket sales should be limited to college and high school students to discourage trouble at an overloaded concert.

The suggestion of outside police help was approved by the co-chairmen. It will cost a minimum of $30 per concert for two policemen.

The idea of a coat check was termed "impossible" by Tyler. Nevertheless, Harrington met Dr. John Anthony, dean of instruction, later and Anthony agreed that a coat room should be made available. Four classrooms were reserved for this Friday night's concert by Lucile Friedli, director of student activities.

"We hope to prove these conditions unnecessary," said Redmond, referring to Rosin's recommendations.

Fill program posts

Len Urso, sophomore, Delta College, was elected Program Board Chairman last Dec. 15.

Individual chairmen elected were Ken Slauf, coffeehouse; Tom Stauch, cultural; Tom McDermott, cabaret; Tim Zarazan, group travel; Jan Stratton, secretary to the board; and Bob Tyler, pop concerts. Miss Stratton resigned and Urso appointed her to his advisory board, which will make suggestions to the chairmen when Urso is not available.

Last Tuesday it was learned that Jim Petersen, who was elected Recreation chairman, resigned. Urso is planning for Recreation classes to take over this area.

For the remaining positions, Robbie Yokum was appointed films chairman; Ellen Rentzsch, secretary to the board and publicist, and Patti Dunne, Urso's secretary. The properties committee will be handled by Chairmen Stauch and McDermott.

The advisory board consists of Ron Murphy, former noontime concerts chairman; Nancy White, former chairman of the coffeehouse, and Miss Stratton. Their jobs will be to handle problems which Urso feels they are best qualified.

Weekly meetings have been planned for every Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. in the Coffee House, until things seem to be progressing in the right direction, according to Urso.

At the first meeting Jan. 4, the budget was discussed. Questions were raised about a cut of $1000 from pop concert committee, and Urso said it was because small committees needed money.

SECURITY MOVES

The Maintenance and Security Office has moved from the Lambert Farmhouse to N-3, across from the Gymnasium.

Traffic fines should be paid there. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

More than 100 College of DuPage students, under direction of Don Dame, counselor, (right center foreground) were involved in the college's second annual Christmas Spirit Drive which provided coats and gifts for the 350 boys in the Illinois State Training School at St. Charles. See Letters to Editor on Page 2.

THE COURIER is a weekly publication by students of College of DuPage with administrative offices at Lambert Rd. and 22nd St., Glen Ellyn, Illinois. letters

Dear Editor,

I must disagree with Linda Feltman's letter on a basic point. Linda does not own her body. No one owns his own body. We have our bodies from God; and while we can do what we want with them, we don't have the right to make laws for ourselves. We are responsible to God for the use of them.

Yours truly,

To the Editor:

To all who helped make our second annual "Christmas Spirit Drive" to the Illinois State Training School for Boys at St. Charles on Dec. 11 a success — thanks!

To list the names of those who gave their time, money, or whatever, would take many pages of The Courier. I believe those involved in the project received their own personal satisfaction and felt the true meaning of Christmas.

The Illinois State Training School for Boys wish to express their thanks via the following letter:

"Dear Don,

"We would like to take this opportunity to thank you, the staff and students of the College of DuPage for the party that was hosted by your group on Dec. 11, 1971. The boys and staff alike had a wonderful time, particularly enjoying the visitors in the cottages and the evening entertainment. Needless to say, the gifts were well accepted and appreciated, especially the football, hockey and basketball games, as well as the radios.

"Efforts such as this are greatly needed by an institution such as ours, especially during the holiday season. As well as expressing our gratitude, we would like to take this opportunity to prevail upon you and solicit and encourage your participation in various other on-going activities throughout the year.

"Again, your generosity and enthusiasm for such a project was quite heartwarming. Please extend our appreciation to your entire crew, who were very instrumental in brightening our boys' Christmas. Our best to all for a Happy and Fruitful New Year.

Sincerely,
David E. Secrest
Acting Administrator-

Spanish group to see Folklorico

"Los Interesados" of Kappa College is planning to attend a matinee performance of the Ballet Folklorico of Mexico at the Arie Crown Theater on Sunday, Feb. 20, at 2:30 p.m. Tickets range from $3.50 to $7.50 and everyone can select the price range they prefer.

The Ballet Folklorico, founded in Mexico City to preserve the traditional folk dances of Mexico, has performed many times in Europe, America and South America.

An invitation is extended to anyone interested in attending the ballet with "Los Interesados." They should contact Margo Florio; M-138B, for reservations or further information.

Omega to hold movie seminar

A "Super 8" Seminar to learn about creative work in media will be held Jan. 12 in the Media Workshop, J-135. It is open to all students.

The seminar will kick off Omega Productions, a new media organization. More information is available in the Media Lab.

Students are urged to bring their cameras. (Regular 8-Double 8 and 16 mm welcome).

Entertainment starts 'heavy'

During the first week of the quarter, a lot of plans were discussed about the student activities coming from the Program Board.

Robbie Yokum, appointee for films, will propose to the Interclub Council that the various clubs handle refreshments when such films as Woodstock appear. The place for attendance could then change from the Coffee House to the M Convocation Center. The plan could bring extra revenue for the organizations. The first film of the quarter will be Joe, Jan. 12, 13, and 14.

Tom McDermott heads a first at DuPage and any other Midwestern college: the Cabaret Series. The definition of the committee is, in his words, "Any live entertainment with serviced refreshments." It will be having a nightclub-type atmosphere, for students under 21.

"I'm striving for an intimate type of atmosphere, with enjoyable surroundings," he said. The location will be the Back Room. Refreshments will include coffee, tea, coke, and on opening night, 'sparkling grape juice' or non-alcoholic champagne. Airline glasses will be given out on opening night, scheduled for Friday, Jan. 24, from 8 p.m.-12. A maitre d'hotel and cocktail waitresses will serve patrons.

A group named Sandalwood will be playing that night. There will be no dress code, and tickets will be $1.50 in advance or at the door. Sale starts on Jan. 17 in K138.

Tom Stauch, new chairman for cultural events, says the committee will be involved in political awareness at the beginning and will try to line up some speakers around the time of the March Illinois primary.

He said he would try and develop an academic and cultural Exchange Series. The system is comparable to Baldwin Wallis College in Ohio, a small college (2600 students) that includes the series in its curriculum. In this way, students can be required to go to about four events every year. The type of series would be developed by the chairman of the cultural committee working with instructors. Ideas would come from the whole school.

"It's hard because of money," said Stauch, "but it's easy to get the Naders or Agnews for $2,000, but it's really not worth it." He said the average cost of a professional event would be around $200.

Coffeehouse Chairman Ken Slauf announced that the Back Room will be open on Wednesdays for a varied program of entertainment ranging from Sandalwood on Jan. 12 from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. to circuit act called Wendy and Roger, appearing Jan. 17, 18, 19.

A noontime 'Get Acquainted' session is planned for Jan. with Slauf and Steve Dyherma providing the entertainment. Auditions for local talent can be arranged through Slauf, at the Program Board office in N-4. Admission is always free.

Bob Tyler and Dave Redmond, co-chairmen of the Pop Concert Committee, made a joint statement: "Our purpose is to have concerts at least once a month and make people come back for more."

Talking transfer

By Don Dame

Welcome back! Hope the new year brings you good health, peace, love and laughter.

This week I will try to deal with some rumors that are heard from time to time around ye old college about transferring.

RUMOR I — "If I take a certain option of English 101, 102, or 103 (such as Media, Cinema, etc.) it will not transfer to most four year schools!" NOT TRUE — On the transcript sent to the four year school the type of English 101, 102, 103 is not listed. Only English 101, 102, 103 — Composition is noted.

RUMOR II — "If I take a five (5) credit course here and the same type of course is a four (4) credit course at the transfer school, I lose one credit!" NOT TRUE — You will receive credit for the course, plus the five credits would be added to the total amount of transferrable credits.

RUMOR III — "If I receive an A.A. degree, I will never have to take courses listed under General Education at the four year schools that take our A.A. degree as automatically meeting all General Education requirements!" USUALLY TRUE — However, you should check on the required courses under your major. Sometimes your major area (Business, Elementary Education, etc.) may require a course in Introduction to Psychology or Sociology or whatever, and if you don't take the course here, you will be required to do so before graduation from the four year school.

Perhaps there are other rumors you have heard about transferring. If you have a question, please jot it down and leave at the Guidance Office, K-134, and I'll try to answer the questions in this column.

Dean to address Engineering club

Dean Howard Wakeland of the University of Illinois will address the Engineering Club at noon Tuesday, Jan. 11, in Room M133. Dr. Wakeland, associate dean of engineering at the Urbana campus, will speak on engineering jobs and education in today's world. Special references will be made to programs at Urbana.

Dean Wakeland is active in engineering and data processing work in the state. He spent part of 1971 in India consulting on education problems.

A luncheon for students and faculty will be held in room K127 following the meeting. Advance reservations at $1.00 a person can be placed with officers of the club or Delta counselor Gerry Morris in Room M139. All interested science and technology students are invited. Reservations should be made by Friday.

Trip to India deadline nears

The trip to India planned by Ann Kahalas, Alpha psychology instructor, is now in its final stages of preparation.

The pilgrimage is scheduled for March 20 through May 15, with the students beginning their colorful journey in Bombay.

Anyone interested in this spiritual odyssey should contact Miss Kahalas in Room 115A by Jan. 7 to give her the necessary $25 deposit.

Student activities automates budget

Computers will be taking over the accounting work in student activities, it was announced Tuesday at a Student Activities budget conference.

The computer should begin work in about two weeks, according to Tom Schmidt, student controller. When it does, balance sheets likely will appear weekly instead of biweekly, as before, he said.

Possible budget cuts and other changes will be discussed at a Jan. 20 meeting.

New LRC wing relieves crowding

The LRC has acquired additional new "fabulous resources," according to Roy Marks, director of materials and utilization.

In addition to the new wing of the LRC, which seats about 80 extra people and houses part of the book collection (PS-Z), the center has added the Maryknoll Periodical collection, the Encyclopedia Britannica's Library of American Civilization, an Equipment Training Lab and Repair Room, and Media Workshop.

Construction of the new wing, said Marks, was to eliminate the congestion of students in the mornings and to make room for the additional materials.

Plans to furnish the wing with desks, lounging chairs and a carpet are in the future.

Hard-to-find books on American civilization, covering a period between ancient exploration and 1914, are available on ultramicrofilm. The Encyclopedia Britannica Library of American Civilization series is the equivalent of very rare books, periodicals and 20,000 volumes of all aspects of Americana. A table reader and two portable lap readers for home use are available. It will be shared with other area colleges.

In J-136A a new Equipment Repair Room will be handled by staff member Pete Lietner and will take care of all faulty equipment almost immediately.

An Equipment Training Lab, located in J-163B, offers a chance to learn how to use the equipment available.

Students, faculty, community, and LRC personnel may learn to operate any piece of audiovisual equipment at their own convenience without disturbing the people in the new wing. It will be open the same hours as the LRC, 7:45 a.m. until 10 p.m. on weekdays, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Saturdays, and 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. on Sundays.

"Every piece of equipment we own is in the lab and is available for class assignments," said Marks.

The Media Workshop, in conjunction with the Media Lab, meets in J135 and offers opportunities to produce audiovisual materials for study or class presentations. Hours will be 8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. To arrange evening hours, contact Bob Skup of the LRC.

Also new this quarter is the two-volume filmstrip series, Civilization, shown previously on television.

"No community college to my knowledge is doing anything of this sort," said Marks.

Equine Council meets Jan. 12

The Equine Council will hold an organizational meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 12, in the Delta Lounge, M-139. Temporary officers will be named then.

Bob Steele, organizer, said future activities will also be discussed. "We at this time have available such things as polo, English and Western riding classes, rodeo, mounted color guards and classes on care and handling," he said.

ID HOURS

Identification cards may be obtained from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday in the registration trailer.

Play tryouts to be Jan. 11-13 in M Bldg.

A series of play tryouts will be held next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 11-13, from 7 to 9 p.m. in Kappa lounge, M Bldg. Anyone is eligible to try out, and it is not necessary to have previous experience.

Summer Tree, a three-act play by Ron Cowan, will be cast and directed by B.F. Johnston. The play will be presented Feb. 25-26.

At the same time four one-act plays will be cast and directed by College of DuPage students. The one-acts will presented March 10-11.

The four are The Shock of Recognition, The Footsteps of Doves, I'll Be Home for Christmas and I'm Herbert. The plays are not only hilariously funny but also show the change in sexual mores of the American people.

Production of the student-directed acts is especially designed for beginners. The methods of trying out will be explained at the sessions.

Rehearsals for the one acts will not begin until February. This will enable students cast in the musical, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, to be cast in these productions since the Forum will have been presented by the end of January.

Directors are especially interested in having older persons try out since there is a number of mature characters to be cast. Also needed is at least one young boy, about 8 to 10.

In addition to Johnston, other instructors in supervisory capacities include Jodie Briggs, Marion Chase, Richard Holgate and Craig Berger.

Sponsor trip to Bulls game

Tuesday, Jan. 11, the Group Travel Committee of the Program Board will sponsor a trip to see the Chicago Bulls basketball team play the New York Knickerbockers. A bus will leave DuPage at 6 p.m. for the Chicago Stadium. Thirty tickets are available in the Student Activities office, K-138, for $3, which includes the cost of a $3 ticket and the bus ride.

Haas "high" on DuPage

By Steve Pierce

"DuPage has always been good to me and has given me an education that extends beyond the classroom into life," says Rand Haas, College of DuPage's sports publicist.

He is really high on the school and he has a good reason.

In early June Haas graduated from the University of Kentucky and found the country in recession so he took a job working in concrete construction. Haas said, looking back and chuckling, "I was quite a concrete worker, I poured the concrete in the wrong places and was having trouble using a 20-pound sledge hammer. I said this is no place for a college man."

So he hopped a train to Chicago to go job hunting.

With a bachelor's degree in one hand and an advertising major in the other, Haas went from one Chicago newspaper to another without success. From there to Sears, who said that they would get in touch. This meant no sale, said Haas.

From an insecure future to an even more unpredictable future, Haas boarded a train for home. He no more than arrived home when DuPage got in touch. The Alumni sent a letter asking for money from a young executive working his way up in the world.

Deciding to go to DuPage for a visit, Haas had two major purposes: brush off the alumni and to see his old acquaintance, Ernie Gibson. Haas had helped at coffee parties and other affairs when the college was first started. Ernie found out about Rand's financial problem and called John Blatnik, director of personnel, and put in a good word.

Blatnik gave him the job of sports publicist.

A sports publicist is the person who writes up facts and figures of a game or an event and then gives these to the different local and Chicago newspapers. The reason for a job opening: "There was lack of student interest and awareness due to nothing in the local newspapers," Haas said.

As Dick Miller, head football coach, said, "All of a sudden the students are aware. There is some spirit and some students are even showing up at the games." Rand has also been doing some photography.

"Almost all of the sports pictures in the paper are taken by me and this is the first time I have done any serious photography," he said.

And don't think that Haas has it easy either.

"I may be here until 1 or 2 a.m. working and calling the different papers in the Chicagoland area, after a game, but I enjoy my work. "DuPage has given me a great opportunity to develop my talents."

Haukoos tabbed

Jerry Haukoos has been selected to fill the position of assistant outdoor track coach at College of DuPage.

Haukoos, of Carol Stream, already an instructor of biological sciences at the college, is looking forward to returning to the coaching ranks in addition to his teaching assignment.

A three-letter man in high school, Haukoos coached track and basketball at Western Springs High School in South Dakota after receiving his M.A. in biology from University of Wyoming.

Track coach Ron Ottoson is elated by the selection, praising Haukoos as an "excellent instructor, one that creates rapport with the students as well as respect."

Assembly urges handicap aids

By Steve McNeil

The College of DuPage Representative Assembly suggested at its last meeting Dec. 15, before Christmas break, that a parking area be paved near M Bldg. for persons with handicap parking permits.

This suggestion is in addition to the two solutions to the handicap parking problem which are already being implemented by Dr. Rodney Berg, College of DuPage president.

The recommendation was included in the report of the ad hoc committee on facilities for handicapped people at College of DuPage.

Parking in the suggested lot would be opened to anyone possessing a handicap parking permit.

Paul Harrington, dean of students and chairman of the committee on handicapped facilities, said the person who submitted the estimate for the parking area emphasized that there would be no lighting and that the area would interfere with plans for a football field and storage area. The persons presenting the proposal, Harrington said, didn't believe it would be a happy solution to the problem.

Included in the report of the committee on handicapped facilities, presented by the assembly as recommendations to

Dr. Berg, was a proposal to give permanently handicapped people preferential office or class assignments.

Bill Leppert, Alpha faculty representative, proposed that a statement be made in the catalog concerning programs and facilities providing opportunities for all handicapped people.

John Hrubec proposed handicapped parking permits be issued at the beginning of each quarter and that handicapped people be allowed to exchange their old permits for new ones each quarter. White permits would be issued on a temporary basis and the expiration date would be displayed prominently on them or violation tickets would be issued. The proposal carried 19 to 1.

It was also suggested that close contact be maintained with Don DeBiase, campus construction coordinator, in order to assure that facilities for handicapped people in the permanent campus are adequate. It was suggested that at least one electric-eye door be installed with wheel chair ramps for entrance to each building on the permanent campus.

Hrubec moved that the next assembly meeting be held on Jan. 11, 1972, and that the assembly meet every two weeks thereafter from 3 to 4 p.m. on Tuesdays except in cases of emergency. The motion carried unanimously.

U of I adopts Alpha-type program

Urbana, Ill. (IP) A plan-it-yourself curriculum began this fall for some undergraduates in the University of Illinois.

Up to 50 students in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences have been accepted for the curricular experiment, called Individual Plans of Study (IPS).

The innovation was proposed by Robert Waller, professor of history and associate dean of the college, and approved by the faculty last December.

It will allow selected students to earn a degree without meeting traditional requirements for a major and minor field of study. Instead, with the advice of faculty sponsor, they will plan a program to meet their own special goals.

Students who enroll in IPS first must submit a proposed course of study. If it is feasible and shows a need for greater flexibility in course selection than now exists, it will be accepted, assuming openings are available, according to Prof. David Whisnant, director of the program.

Dean Waller said IPS is needed to test the value of involving students in planning their own education and to determine the results of allowing undergraduates to pursue interdisciplinary studies. If the experiment succeeds, some other U. of I. colleges may try it or an IPS for all undergraduates may be developed, he said.

Cagers vacation

The College of DuPage basketball team was the only Chaparral athletic team in action during the Christmas vacation.

Since the last issue of The Courier the hardwood quintet upset state powerhouses Joliet and Waubunsee on last minute heroics.

The Chaparral team then traveled to Elgin for the second annual Elgin tournament. In the opener DuPage jumped to an early 16 point lead, but several mistakes in the final minute sent The Chaparrals to defeat.

In the consolation bracket the Chaparrals beat Morton, but Wright Junior College proved too much and DuPage never contested.

The winter sport schedule goes into full swing in the next two weeks and The Courier will resume full coverage.
