Road, parking lot construction accommodate growing college

by Will Hacker

CD is experiencing growing pains with an increase in parking problems. Now the problem is getting out of hand and the administration is doing something about it.

Additional parking lot space that was approved in August of 1989 has been under steady construction throughout the summer.

"When construction is completed, 783 additional spaces will be available in lots one, two, three, seven, and eight," Mike Alsup, Public Safety officer, said. "Of these new spaces, 570 will be open to students and 213 spaces will be allotted for faculty and staff."

All lots are presently open for use except lot seven which is to be paved this week if weather permits.

Even with this increase in parking spaces the lots will be full with a student-to-space ratio of about five to one.

Alsup suggested carpooling and more use of lots nine, ten, eleven, and twelve, which are only half filled during the day.

Faculty lots will be less crowded with a user-to-space ratio of about one and a half to see Parking, pg. 3

An all-too-common sight at CD in the fall is lines of cars cruising the lots in search of a close-in parking space, while distant lots remain half-empty.

Russell takes over as student trustee

by Will Hacker

Fall Quarter 1990 has seen the installation of yet another student trustee. Jeffrey D. Russell has been appointed to fill the position vacated by M. Faiyaz Hussain.

Hussain resigned his student trustee post on August 15 in order to continue his education at University of Illinois—Urbana.

A five-member committee was selected to represent all areas of the school in the selection of the new trustee. The applications and resumes of Russell, Allison Carley and Nazima Hasham were reviewed by the committee, which unanimously selected Russell.

Carley and Hasham, who are both senators, will continue to serve in the student senate.

"They were both very intelligent and articulate and will serve the student body well as senators," Russell said.

Russell is the second trustee chosen to fill an unexpired term on the board of trustees. Hussain was appointed prior to Winter Quarter 1990 to replace Tom Fessler, who vacated the post. Hussain was then chosen over Alan Holtz in the spring 1990 election. The current term will run until spring 1991.

Russell plans to finish the term but will not seek reelection.

"I don't think it's fair to the students for someone to run for a term they don't plan on finishing," he said.

Bush coming to CD Appearance in support of Edgar's campaign brings president to Glen Ellyn

by Barbara Lopez-Lucio

CD will play host to the president of the United States, George Bush, on October 16.

Bush is scheduled to make a campaign appearance in support of the Republican candidate for governor of Illinois, Jim Edgar.

According to Bob Carpenter of the Republican National Committee, the entire slate of state-wide Republican candidates, including U.S. Senate candidate Lynn Martin, has been invited to the campaign rally. Carpenter did not yet know which candidates besides Bush and Edgar would be definitely appearing.

The rally is slated to begin around 11 a.m., according to Carpenter. The president is expected to put in his appearance from noon to 1 p.m.

The main arena of the PE building will be the site for the festivities. In preparation for the president's visit, all regular activities in the PE building will be halted as of noon on October 15.

Preparations for the presidential visit are sure to bring a flurry of activity to campus.

Two years ago, then Vice-President Bush visited CD, campaigning for the job he now holds. Some 3,000 supporters, sprinkled with a few protestors, attended that rally.

One of the main campaign promises Bush made in his bid for election was "no new taxes." Ironically, a controversial new tax package is currently being pushed by the administration as a way to reduce the federal budget deficit.

Public Safety survey points out need for a larger force

by Susan Polay

The Department of Public Safety of CD, as surveyed in June 1990, ranks above average or in the 89th percentile when compared with other law enforcement agencies in areas such as response time, officer conduct, and effectiveness of public safety personnel.

As part of the effort of commitment to improve the professionalism of its law enforcement staff, the DPS contacted the first 250 persons who filed an accident/incident report within six months prior to June 1990 to complete the survey.

Respondents were also asked to rate the quality of their contact with DPS as compared to contacts with other law enforcement agencies and requested to disclose their feelings of the greatest strengths of the DPS and in their opinion how the DPS could improve most.

Potential respondents were contacted in a three-fold manner: mailing of a survey response form, a postcard and a follow up telephone call.

Of the 250 persons contacted, 81 chose to respond or a percentage of 32.4.

"We wish more people responded," Mike Alsup of Public Safety said, "but we were pleased with the results."

"This is the first survey since the college opened 20 years ago that Public Safety has conducted," he continued. "We wanted to develop a mission of meeting needs to gauge if rudimentary things are getting done right."

The question for "response time" received a 2 percent affirmation stating that the department's response was quicker than expected, 65 percent felt DPS personnel arrived promptly, 7 percent believed it took too long for the DPS to arrive leaving 4 percent with no opinion.

Ninety-five percent of the surveyors affirmed that the DPS personnel responded

Students in the SRC had an unexpected mid-morning break September 26 when a fire alarm was set off and the building evacuated. Fortunately, it was a false alarm, set off by a child in the LRC. After a few minutes, Public Safety officers allowed everyone back inside.

POLICE BEAT

September 20

*A GEO owned by Tom and Barb Finn was towed by Tom's Towing in Wheaton for parking in a roadway and impeding traffic.

*A 1986 Cadillac DeVille sustained hit-and-run damage. The car's driver, Rae F. Syrma, of Lisle, reported damage to the driver's door, the passenger's door, and the front of the rear fender.

*Mary E. Cotsilis, of Downers Grove, driving a 1987 Nissan Sentra, struck Villa Park resident Jennifer J. Trenkler's 1986 Cutlass in the driver's rear quarter panel area. Cotsilis's Sentra suffered damage to the left front fender. Trenkler was in a one-way only coming out onto a two-way road when struck by Cotsilis.

*A 1980 Toyota Corolla driven by Jennifer Anne Pietraszek, Elmhurst, was struck by a 1990 Oldsmobile mini-van driven by Patricia A. Bruck, Woodridge. Pietraszek was entering a two-lane roadway from a parking area when the collision occurred. Pietraszek's vehicle sustained damage to the front fender. The front bumper of Bruck's vehicle was damaged.

*James Joseph, Wheaton, driving a 1987 Toyota Camry wagon, was heading northbound in the PE faculty lot. Erik E. Jarvi, Wheaton, was driving a 1980 Buick Limited and was backing out of parking space when struck in the rear bumper by Joseph. ### Parking, cont.. from pg. 1

one. Total increase in faculty parking is 46 percent, compared to a 10 percent increase in general parking.

There will be no increase in handicapped parking, however fifteen new visitor parking spaces have been added.

While these numbers may sound like a shortage it should be realized that not all students and faculty are on campus at the same time. These figures represent off-campus as well as on campus locations.

With all this parking going on it's not surprising to see numerous rules violated.

"We issue about 8,000 tickets per year," Alsop said.

Public Safety looks for the most flagrant abusers and issues tickets for violations ranging from cars parked in lined off areas to cars that are blocking roads or fire lanes.

"We towed one car the first day because it was blocking the road," Alsop said.

Cars that are towed are done so at the expense of the owner who will also have to pay a fine.

Growth at the college has also led to extension and widening of College Drive, which will soon connect Lambert Road with Park Boulevard. The road will also be widened from 30 feet to 40 feet.

"Paving is to begin on October 3 if the weather conditions permit outdoor work," K.C. Patel, construction coordinator, said. "Installation of lights won't be until late January."

No decision has been made on whether or not the road will open with the use of temporary stop signs, but the idea has been suggested.

"After completion of the road, lights will be installed by the Village of Glen Ellyn," Alsop said. "Since they will maintain them they will be the ones to install them."

The lights will be paid for by the school.

Once the road is open for use it will be patrolled by Public Safety officers who will enforce the 20 m.p.h. speed limit.

Complete figures for the project are not yet in. However the original bid of $822,800 has been passed with the present cost at $845,000. Final costs may exceed $900,000.

Russell cont. from pg. 1

While Russell plans to serve the students the best he can, he says he must also serve the interests of all District 502 voters as well.

"I'm responsible to serve all the voters, but I will see that student interests and views are brought to the attention of the board," Russell said. "I don't cast votes on policy issues but I will offer input and advisory comments that can influence the board in directions that best aid the students."

Another possible benefit to the students will be the new constitution ratified last spring.

"I think the new constitution is much improved. It will give student government more opportunity to enact changes on the students behalf," Russell said.

The new constitution was first approved in the fall election of 1989. Due to wording problems, it was revised and ratified by the student body during the spring 1990 election.

One of the projects Russell is planning to focus his attention on is the proposed student union.

"I want it to be as big as possible to accommodate future growth at CD," he said. "I would also like to see the bookstore moved into the union so that existing bookstore space could be made available to faculty as office space."

Russell said the student union is important to him because students need a place to gather, talk and study.

Russell has a colorful background with experience in military intelligence. He has served time with the U.S Army 82nd Airborne Division. Russell speaks Russian and Spanish and has been stationed in Honduras, Panama and at Guantanamo Naval Station in Cuba.

After the service Russell came north planning to attend college, when he heard good things about C.D.

"I love it here. This is the best community college in the state and possibly the best in the nation," Russell said.

Russell's future plans include obtaining a Ph.D in history and teaching at the college level. He has a strong interest in higher education and plans to get involved in administration.

Student government is open to all at CD

First of all, let's clear something up. The Student Government Association is not a club. All students at CD are members just by being a student. However, whether or not you choose to be an active member is up to you. There are no auditions so you won't have to "try out" to get involved. Just stop in SRC 1015 and tell the person behind the desk your interest.

You can also sit in at student senate meeting. They're held every other Thursday at 2 p.m. The next one is October 11, in SRC 2085.

Committee membership is open to all students and it's a great way to start out and meet new people while really making a difference at the college. Public relations meets every Tuesday at 3 p.m. and student services meets every Wednesday at 3 p.m. in SRC 1015.

The exciting news is that there are nine student senate seats available. Get involved in the decision-making process and in the governance of our college by running for a seat. If interested, pick up an election packet until October 11 in SRC 1015.

CD honors society meetings set for Mondays

The CD chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, the national honors society, will be holding its meetings at 3 p.m. on Mondays until further notice.

With the regional and national conventions being held in Chicago this year, there are many opportunities for PTK members.

To join Phi Theta Kappa, a full-time student requires a cumulative GPA of 3.2 and any two president's lists. A part-time student requires a cumulative GPA of 3.2 and two consecutive part-time student scholar awards.

EDITORIAL/OPINION

Editorial: Parking woes are easily solved

As surely as leaves fall from the trees every year about this time, hordes of students descend upon the CD campus, usually one to a car.

They can be seen every morning, futilely cruising the parking lots, row by row, in search of that most elusive of goals, a close-in parking spot.

Unfortunately for those who arrive after 9 a.m., such a spot is not easily come by.

Many students have found what might appear to be the ideal solution. They simply park along the curbs in some of the newly-expanded parking lots, assuming that since these areas are not marked as no-parking areas, they are fair game.

Wrong.

As many students have been finding out this week, parking your car anywhere it will fit is a big no-no.

After issuing warning tickets in these areas for the first seven days of the quarter, Public Safety officers this week began putting tickets on cars illegally parking in the parking lot right-of-ways.

This action has raised cries of outrage from many of the ticketed individuals, but this outrage is not entirely justified.

The attitudes of most CD students about parking must be a reflection of our instantaneous-gratification culture. If they cannot find a parking space right by the door, five minutes before they are due in class, there are those who feel they have been short-changed.

What would these same people do at a giant state university, where long walks from dorms to classrooms are the norm?

Just across Lambert Road, a short walk away from the main campus, hundreds of parking spaces sit empty every day, as long lines of cars jam up the east-side parking lots and park wherever they can.

The solution to CD's parking problem is simple enough. Drive across the street, park and walk. Walking is not really against the law in DuPage County, it can even be pleasant on a nice fall day. If it rains, bring an umbrella; when it's cold, wear a hat and gloves.

Just think of all the time and gasoline that could be saved. Instead of driving up and down rows of filled parking slots for 15 minutes, hoping for an opening, the savvy student could park, enjoy a quick walk, and be in class in a few minutes.

Oh, and about those tempting curbside non-parking spaces in the new lots—how difficult would it be to get some yellow paint on the curbs, or to put up a few construction barricades with no-parking signs on them?

It could save a lot of frustration, and money, for CD students, and it would surely save some busy Public Safety officers from a nasty case of writers cramp.

Some things never change

I WONDER IF WE'RE BEGINNING TO HAVE A SMALL PARKING PROBLEM.

Opinion:

Daily cruise to school is too much fun to give up

*A different view of today's events
by Will Hacker, associate editor*

A funny thing happened the other morning as I was getting ready for school. The strangest thought hit me, "Why don't I take the bus to school." Then reality sank in and I saw the madness of my thinking.

For one thing I don't like buses. I'm afraid of enjoying the comforts of relaxation too much and sleeping past my stop. I have recurring nightmares of waking up looking for the I.C. and finding out that this is Schiller Park.

Another problem with mass transit is that it's tension free for the average commuter. The drive to school just isn't the same without cursing out everyone on the road. Just imagine students coming to school with their lungs intact and their blood pressure below the boiling point. It would never work.

Respiratory well being isn't the only reason to avoid busing, hands provide another good reason.

Why would a student want to leave a warm house, put his hands in warm gloves, and wait for a warm bus on a cold winter morning. That would be the smart thing to do and also the least adventurous.

Most students prefer the challenge of chipping ice off their windows and wrapping their cold hands around cold steering wheels while waiting for the heat to finally come on as they shiver down the road. Then there's always the pleasures of creating a new dance form as they wiggle around on that vinyl seat, too afraid to stop moving because they may get stuck in place. Keep in mind if the heat doesn't come on by the end of the ride there's always more cursing to get one through.

I've just never understood those bus people. They don't get the same enjoyment out of playing "beat your brains out and park" that the rest of us do. Sounds weird to me.

These mavens of mass transit also seem deathly afraid to do a little walking. Most students would never abandon the time honored tradition of "walking yourself breathless" before the day has even begun. Sometimes I think these people are up to something.

Bussers never seem to spend the amounts of money that drivers do. Don't they enjoy making mechanics and gas stations rich? Isn't giving large and unnecessary sums of money to already wealthy entrepreneurs the American way?

So as the year wears on and the complaints about parking get old please keep this in mind: When you see some fool racing around, swearing, and doing countless damage to your car, get out of his way because it's me and I'm late for class.

Those interested in missing the morning headache can contact Pace Bus Service at 1-800-972-7000, they offer many convenient routes throughout DuPage County.

Forum: ISA aims to help all students

The Illinois Student Association is an organization of great importance to the students of CD. ISA is the only lobbying group in Springfield founded by, run by and funded by students. ISA financial independence gives the group a great deal of freedom to operate.

Like any lobby, ISA charts its success based on its ability to influence legislation that directly affects its constituents. Among the recent successes of the organization have been the tuition freeze (very important to CD students who plan to transfer), and the authorization of the student to student grant for community college students.

Although the governor recently vetoed the student-to-student grant, it originally passed in both Houses unanimously and an override is considered likely.

In addition to educational lobbying, ISA also helps individual campuses organize students and helps them achieve common goals. ISA hosts periodic conferences to help train and educate student leaders to this end.

At the most recent ISA conference, there were a large number of educational issues discussed in a variety of workshops. One of the most entertaining was a workshop on student advocacy skills. The conference delegates portrayed the roles of campus administrators and student leaders. This was aimed at helping the delegates understand the different perspectives of people on opposite sides of an issue and help them find common ground.

Students were also given a crash course in issues as diverse as retention, disabled access, tuition policy, higher education policy and community college transfer issues. These workshops, including one that was facilitated by CD's student trustee Jeff Russell, gave the student leaders more of what they need to help the students: information.

Thanks to a discussion that took place during the seminar on community college transfers, the SGA office will now carry a copy of the college transfer book that is also available in the LRC and the counseling office.

Letters to the editor

Thanks from a former student to all at CD

Dear editor:

I attended CD off and on for three years. The faculty and staff at the college were both helpful and highly skilled when it came to advising. I grew to like CD so well it became hard for me to leave when the time came.

As a former editor and reporter for the Courier, I met many people who helped me not only with my stories, but guided me in my educational career. One CD advisor, who once taught at Roosevelt University in Chicago even made it possible for me to receive a scholarship there. That guidance enabled me to pursue my dreams at a great university, studying in the field of journalism.

Willingness to advise is one trait I found very common in the staff at CD. The staff genuinely cares about what happens to CD students once they leave the college.

I've also noticed how well-prepared I am in my classes. School has never been easy for me—in fact it has always been an uphill struggle. Journalism classes at the community college level and journalism classes at the university level are bound to be different. The program I'm involved in at Roosevelt is quite a bit more extensive because the university offers a degree in the field.

Even though the journalism classes I took at CD were more or less preparatory classes, they were tough. They required a lot of foot work. Now I am glad my instructor made me work so hard.

I want to take this time to encourage CD students to seek the advice of the well-trained faculty at CD. They are responsive, sympathetic and excited for students to have a profitable academic career that extends beyond the walls of CD.

Maren K. Egge
former CD student

SGA seeking candidates to run for office

To the editor:

With the new quarter under way, many things are happening all over campus. I would like to bring to the attention of students one of the most important!

As of Monday, October 1, nomination petitions have been available from the Student Government Association office in SRC 1015. There are nine seats open for election on the student senate this year and I strongly encourage any interested students to run for election. It is a great opportunity for students to become involved in the decision-making process within the college system. It also allows students to gain more from college than what they learn in class.

This year, SGA is reaching out to even more students by holding election nights at four major satellite facilities of the college. The main campus election days will be October 22 and 23. At the very least, I encourage students to vote in these elections. By voting, a person can have a say in the actions of the SGA—the students' representatives.

If students feel that they do not have enough time to commit to membership of the student senate, they may also get involved by becoming members of one of the committees that SGA has. Anyone can get involved and help out.

Nomination petitions may be signed out until October 11. Completed petitions are due by noon on October 11.

So, if you think that you can make a difference at CD, (and I assure you that you can) then come on in and get started!

Murray Leith
Senate chair and election commissioner

Involvement in student life is enriching

Fellow students:

Each year brings a new sense of optimism to CD. We continue to grow at an unprecedented rate and serve as the preeminent model of what the Illinois community college should be. As president of the largest undergraduate student body in Illinois, I take great pride in this institution.

This college has so much to offer you. You cheat yourself if you allow yourself to become one of those people whose only contact with CD is simply going to class. Collegiate life is far more than that. CD offers superb athletics, honor societies, clubs, student publications, religious groups, speech and College Bowl teams, and of course, student governance.

Your success and your enjoyment of your college experience depend upon your commitment to yourself and your fellow students. Like anything else, you get out of college what you put into it. With effort from you, college can be one of the greatest moments of your life.

New student trustee sees a 'great year'

To the editor:

I just wanted to take this opportunity to thank the members of the committee who chose me to finish the Student Trustee term left vacant by Faiyaz Hussain who left to attend U of I at Urbana.

The members of the committee must have had a difficult time deciding from the other two applicants because they were just as qualified.

Nazima Hasham and Allison Carley were both outstanding candidates and are both currently on the Student Senate. I've never met two students more concerned with student issues and determined to do what's right for the student body. We are lucky to have them representing us.

If anyone would like to get in touch with me to discuss a problem or concern, please do not hesitate to stop in and speak with me. I can be found in the SGA office, SRC 1015, from 9 a.m. to noon, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, or between noon and 3 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday. I am frequently there in the evening as well.

I also want to express my complete confidence in the SGA and say that they are undoubtedly the best group we've ever had. I think that the new structure is working even better than expected and I am pleased that they are urging students who do not want to run in the election to get involved in the committees.

The SGA has a lot to offer students in terms of experience, self-confidence, and a feeling of accomplishment. I don't think you can get experience like this anywhere else while you're still a student. I urge all of you to get involved and contribute to the betterment of the student body and to CD.

Seaton Computing Center opening ushers CD into the future

The George L. Seaton Instructional Computing Center was dedicated September 13, with George Seaton, CD's first board of trustees chairman, cutting the ceremonial ribbon.

Joining in honoring Seaton were college and local dignitaries, including CD President H.D. McAninch, board of trustees Chairman Bob Kelly and Richard Carlson, vice-chairman of the DuPage County board.

"George Seaton's leadership since 1966 and his continued contribution truly justifies this honor," Carlson said.

Speakers at the dedication ceremony talked of Seaton's vision for a community college, and his commitment to excellence.

"George can look at himself and say that he's made an impact on the past, he's making an impact on the present, and certainly, with this building, he is making an impact in the future," David Downs, College of DuPage Foundation president said.

The dedication of the SCC culminates a project that has been in the works since 1986. A program committee consisting of faculty, deans and Computing and Information Systems put together a statement on how the proposed facility would be used, according to Gary Wenger, executive director of Computing and Information Systems.

The approval process took time.

"It wasn't until the fall of 1988 that the architect submitted the bid documents," Wenger said.

The first round of bids were over budget, so a second round of bids were sought in January of 1989. Finally, in April of 1989, construction began on the 16,000 sq. ft. building.

The construction process went as planned, with no significant delays, according to Wenger.

"The building itself is fairly simple, it's a one-story facility," he said. "There are no exterior windows."

What makes this building special is that it was designed and built for computers, rather than being adapted from some other use.

I would've bought a Macintosh even without the student discount.

Greg Gallant
Consumer Economics and Housing
Cornell University

"The first time I saw a Macintosh, I was immediately hooked. It's a work of art. I saw the student pricing and my next move was obvious: get one.

"Some other computers are cheaper, but they're a pain to learn, and working on them can be a grueling experience. Last year, a friend bought another kind of computer against my advice and has used it for maybe 15 hours. What a waste.

"Macintosh, on the other hand, is a logical extension of the mind. It lets you concentrate on what's in your paper, not on how to get it on paper. You can create professional-looking documents in minutes, and you lose the fear of learning new programs because they all work in the same way.

"Once you've worked with a Macintosh, there's no turning back."

was pretty complex because of the volume of computer equipment in the facility," Wenger said. "The whole facility is on a raised floor to allow us the ease of distributing the electrical and data network to the individual work stations."

The building was also built with expansion in mind, should the need arise. The one-story facility can be expanded to a total of three floors.

Wenger also said that the construction was completed within the budgeted amount of approximately $2 million. Equipment and furniture for the new building tacked on an additional $1.6 million to the facility's cost.

Building construction was completed last April when the work of setting up the computers began. The Computer Aided Drafting and Design lab was ready for use Summer Quarter while the entire building was opened Fall Quarter.

Bill Brittain, manager of academic computing, is pleased with the new building and system.

"Reaction from students and staff has been very favorable," he said. "We wrote up a handout that we have available to students that gives directions on how to get into the system, and the software available."

Ease of operation has been a big plus for users, according to Brittain.

"The students really like it," he said. "It's a lot easier to use than most network systems. They don't have to check in at the desk, they don't need an ID, they can just sit down and go to work."

"We like to make the place easy to use," he continued. "We don't want to scare people off."

The SCC is currently open 84 hours per week. Should demand warrant, it could be used 24 hours a day.

"The building was designed from a security point, that should we need to work 24 hours a day, we can do it and still provide security for our staff members," Brittain said.

So far, the labs are being "fairly heavily used," Brittain said.

Included in the SCC are three IBM classrooms, one Macintosh classroom, one CADD classroom, and two open labs equipped with IBM, Macintosh, CADD, and IBM InfoWindow systems.

Students using the new Seaton Computing Center enjoy state-of-the-art equipment in a facility that was designed from the ground up with computers in mind.

courteously to their needs, citing "friendly," "caring," "concerned and personable officers."

The DPS empathized with the situations they encountered, as stated by 92 percent of the respondents quoted as saying "caring and wishing to help a person."

The DPS personnel conducted themselves in a professional manner as 96 percent indicated a "thorough" and the "highest caliber" operation.

Ninety percent of the respondents agreed that DPS personnel knew what to do and how to manage the conflict. Some surveyors are quoted as saying "very professional" and "well informed people."

The DPS personnel did everything possible to resolve their conflict as 88 percent of the people responded in favor stating an "ability to enforce the law and college rules in a prompt" manner.

Ninety percent of the respondents felt identification of the personnel was adequate.

Compared to other law enforcement agencies respondents were asked to rate the quality of their experience with DPS against contacts with other law enforcement agencies. Forty percent rated their experience with DPS as better, 35 percent rated DPS as the same, 7 percent rated their experience as worse and 14 percent had no basis for comparison.

"Greatest strengths" and "need for improvement" were discussed in the questionnaire.

Some of the "greatest strengths" of the DPS pointed out were "courteous officers," "concern for the situation and myself," "speed in which they resolved the situation," "precise records," and just "being there."

Also "needs for improvement" mentioned were "smile more often," "more manpower," "friendlier attitude," "closer watch for thefts" and "speeding," "follow-up," "more publicizing so we know where and who to contact," "tighter security" and "undercover officers."

Alsop agreed with the "needs for improvement" as far as more manpower and people handling skills.

Nine officers started on the force in 1970 with the addition of two officers in the past two years with the growth of students far surpassing the growth of the force.

The need for more manpower is so great that "there is hardly any time for follow-up," Alsop said.

More surveys will be sent out on a regular basis on a 10 percent recontacting system of the accident/incident reports to measure performance of the DPS.

The new motto of DPS is a quote from Harold Coyle, "No mission too hard, no task too trivial," and "excellence is our standard."

Alumni Association

The Alumni Association host many social and educational activities throughout the year for alumni, students and other members of the college community.

Anyone who has taken at least one credit at C.O.D. is eligible for membership. There are three membership categories: Green and Gold Order for C.O.D. degree or certificate holders, membership is $10 per year or $18 for two years; Chaparral Club for anyone who has completed one or more credit hours at C.O.D., membership is $15 per year or $28 for two years; Community for anyone, particularly local business people who would like to become affiliated with the college or the Alumni Association.

Members may use the Outdoor Rec Service with a fifty percent discount off the cost of equipment rentals along with the opportunity to join the DuPage Schools Credit Union, a full service bank, which carries a low-interest VISA card and loan arrangement capabilities. The Association awards three scholarships every spring quarter to a qualified sophomore at C.O.D. with a minimum G.P.A. of 3.5.

The Association encourages volunteers to attend an Alumni Volunteer reception on October 17th at 7p.m. Volunteers will be able to sign up for numerous committees and task forces. For more information or an application, call 858-2800, ext. 2644, or stop by SRC 1019.

Student Activities Center

Let the Good Times Roll!

Locoted in SRC 1020, the Student Activities Center houses the S.A.C. Box Office, Rec Area, and Outdoor Rec Services. All areos will be closed on official school holidays, quarter breaks, and on Monday, November 12, 1990.

Student Activities Box Office

The Student Activities Box Office provides many services for C.O.D. students as well as the general public. The Box Office is a discount ticket service for C.O.D. and Chicago area events and concerts. Among the discounts offered to customers are: General Cinema movie tickets, Rose Live theater tickets, On the Town coupon books, and Entertainment '91 coupon books. The Box Office serves as a ticket agent for Great America, Ravinia, Paramount Arts Center, Catch A Rising Star Comedy Club, as well as C.O.D. Hospitality lunches and dinners. Throughout the school year, the Box Office will be open from 8:30a.m. to 9p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 8:30a.m. to 7:30p.m. on Friday. For more information, call 858-2800, ext. 2241.

Recreation Area

Billiards, board games, and a juke box await student and staff use in the Rec Area. Billiards tournaments are held throughout the year. The Rec Area will be taking part in men's, women's and co-ed bowling, as well as billiards and chess. Team tryouts will be held during winter quarter for competition in the Region 8 ACU-I tournament; applications available after January 1 in SRC 1020. The Rec Area will be open from 8:00a.m.-9p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 8:00a.m.-7:30p.m. on Friday. For more information, call 858-2800, ext. 2453.

Outdoor Recreation Services

Registered students and Alumni Association Members can rent cross-country skis, snowshoes, backpacks, tents, sleeping bags, ensolite pads and canoes with cartop carries through O.R.S. The O.R.S. is open from noon-7p.m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. For more info call 858-2800, ext. 2453.

Pom Pon and Cheerleaders

C.O.D.'s spirited pom pon and cheerleading squads perform at all home varsity football and basketball games and often accompany our teams around the state. Try-outs for the Pom Pons and Chaparrettes are held during Fall and Spring quarters.

To learn more about these activities, phone Student Activities, 858-2800, ext. 2243.

Aerobic Fitness Lab

Any registered C.O.D. student or resident of District 502 may use the lab by enrolling in Aerobic Fitness.

All first time participants must enroll in Physical Education 152A, Aerobic Fitness I, and attend one of the orientation sessions. For further information, contact Don Klaas, 858-2800, ext. 2365.

College Bowl

Sponsored by the Alumni Association, College Bowl is a game of general knowledge and quick recall. It tests the players on facts in every academic discipline from history to literature to sports to science to current events. Known as "the varsity sport of the mind," College Bowl has received numerous educational awards, along with several presidential citations beginning with President Eisenhower in the 1950's.

Interested students are encouraged to try out. Applications for tryouts are available in SRC 1019. Deadline to apply is October 12th. Call Joe Comeau at 858-2800, ext. 2644 or Charles Ellenbaum at ext. 2433 for more information.

Physical Education Building Membership

The College of DuPage Physical Education and Community Recreation Center is available to students and residents of Community College District 502. This includes the use of the arena, one tenth mile indoor track, eight-lane pool, weight room and eight racquetball courts at designated times throughout the week.

Community memberships may be purchased on an annual or a quarterly basis. Members must be 16 years or older to join. Senior citizens and alumni may purchase a membership at discounted rates. C.O.D. students taking at least six credit hours will be charged for an I.D. card.

Starting Monday, September 20th, memberships will be taken on the following days at the control counter on the lower levels of the P. E. Center. Monday, Wednesday & Friday - Noon - 2p.m. Monday & Tuesday Evenings - 6p.m. - 8p.m. (First four weeks of quarter.) Saturday - 9a.m. - 11a.m.

For further information, contact Kim Jarvi at the Center, 858-2800, ext. 2365.

From the Presidents Desk:

The Student Government Association at the College of DuPage has a long history of involvement and accomplishment. We are proud of that tradition. The student body needs people who are willing to donate time and effort to representing them and their views.

We are not run by the administration. We set our own agenda and fund ourselves through a Student Service Fee that all students pay to support Student Activities. Everything from athletics to arts programs are funded by this fee. This assures a strong, independent student voice in the governance of our college.

Students can get involved by becoming a member of a committee. There are four legislative committees along with several Presidential Task Forces that any Student Government Association member can join: Student Services, Senate Appropriations, Rules, and Public Relations. Students who are interested in law and legislation that affects education at the state and national level, can apply to the President's Task Force on Legislative Affairs. There is also the Task Force on Minority Affairs.

Another way to get involved is to run in the election for a seat on the Student Senate. Elections are held in the fall and spring. The student body president and vice president are elected in the spring. We encourage you to consider running. The fall is not too soon and almost all the senators are freshman.

Please stop in our office during the first few weeks of classes to pick up an election packet, or to inquire about committee/task force meeting schedules. Our office is open from 8a.m. to 6p.m.

Student government is a great way to get to know people and to learn about politics and education. We constantly strive to be successful and efficient. I hope you are interested and get involved.

Mike Stajduhar
SGA President

Jaime Escalante will 'Stand and Deliver' at CD

Noted teacher to kick off Honors Lecture series

"I'm just a math teacher. I'm just helping my students achieve their highest degree of personal development."

-Jaime Escalante

by Mike Donovan

Jaime Escalante, the high school teacher whose career was the subject of the film "Stand and Deliver," will speak at CD Sunday October 7, 3 at 3pm.

Escalante will speak about his life and his teaching methods.

Escalante's appearance in the Arts Center Mainstage is the first in the Honors Lecture series, presented by CD's Student Activities Program board.

After teaching Physics in Bolivia for 11 years, until 1964, Escalante immigrated to the U.S.

After receiving an AA degree in electronics, he worked with the Burroughs Corp. while earning his B.A. in mathematics.

Upon gaining his teaching credentials in the U.S., Escalante took a considerable cut in pay in 1974 to become a math teacher at Garfield High School in California.

Garfield High School was plagued by poor funding, constant violence and below-standard working conditions.

Through his persistent inspirational teaching methods and by being a constant challenge to his students, Escalante helped Garfield High School rank the seventh highest school in calculus in the nation.

Despite all of the achievements Escalante has inspired, he is quite humble. He believes that the role he plays in the success of a student is a minor one.

"I'm just a math teacher," Escalante said. "I'm just helping my students achieve their highest degree of personal development."

That help seems to be the key ingredient. Challenging students who previously had little encouragement has made wonderful things happen at Garfield High School.

"I do not believe in 'gifteds,'" Escalante said. "If they have ganas (desire), I can make them do it. The kids are capable. All they need is a chance to do it."

Jaime Escalante in person is reputed to be as vital, genuine and challenging as he is to his students every day. His appearance Sunday in the Arts Center should prove both informative and inspirational.

Tickets are available at the Arts Center box office for $8; $6 for students and senior citizens. To reserve tickets call 858-2800, ext. 2036.

Other speakers slated as part of the Honors Lecture Series include Dr. Alvin Poussiant, television consultant to The Cosby Show, on February 5, 1991, and syndicated columnist Georgie Anne Geyer on April 10, 1991.

Jaime Escalante, the high school math teacher made famous by the movie "Stand and Deliver," appears at CD's Arts Center on Sunday, as part of the Honors Lecture series.

Music review: Summer crop of music offers delights for the listeners' ears

by Nick Wetmore

Over the summer it may have gotten a little difficult to keep up with all the current music releases. With a tough summer job and thoughts of a long year ahead at CD, thoughts tend to drift from the music scene.

Given this situation, a list of suggested material from this summer's crop seems in order.

"Ziggy Stardust and the Spiders From Mars"—David Bowie

This is David Bowie at his absolute finest. Truly Rock n Roll as it was meant to be heard. Brilliantly intense.

"Edutainment"—Boogie Down Productions

Hip Hop music will never be the same. KRS-One, the lyricist and main philosopher is one of the most intelligent songwriters in the music field today.

"Ragged Glory"—Neil Young and Crazy Horse

Neil Young has finally gotten back to what he does best. He uses guitars and feedback to build a wall within the songs. The entire album without and any dubs or instrumental overlays. Neil is back to his true form. Welcome back.

"Black Angel"—Kronos Quartet

A fusion of gothic and classical music with string accompaniment that creates a nightmare scenario.

"Blue Sunshine"—The Glove

This record was released originally in 1983 but was available domestically only as an import. The two predominant characters in

The Glove are Steve Severin and Robert Smith. This release picks up where the Cure's "Pornography" leaves off. No Siouxsie and the Banshees or Cure fan should be without this one.

"Fear of a Black Planet"—Public Enemy

The best rap album of the year. Lyrically jarring.

Various rereleases—Can

Some of the most rhythmic, poetic and numb-to-the-touch sounds since the Velvet Underground.

"Historia de la Musica Rock"—Pussy Galore

Gritty, hard edged guitar sound held together by pounding tiny percussion. Pussy Galore has a lot on their minds and are ready at any moment to slap your face to get a point across.

Twin Peaks Soundtrack

Absolutely haunting.

"Extricate"—The Fall

This legendary Manchester band continues to forge new ground without bothering to consider trends or modern convention. These Mancunians will still be around after the hoods and flares have come and gone.

Other summer releases worth picking up include: Anthrax, "The Persistence of Time;" Wire, "Manscape;" Lilac Time, "And Love For All;" Lemonheads, "Lovely;" Sonic Youth, "Goo;" and Bongwater, "Too Much Sleep."

New Philharmonic Orchestra premieres at college Arts Center

by Rachel Azzarello

The New Philharmonic Orchestra will begin its 14th season at CD on October 5.

Harold Bauer returns also, for his 14th season as music director for the New Philharmonic.

This season's premiere show is called "Beethoven Five," which will consist of Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 5, "Emperor" and Symphony No. 5.

Internationally recognized Ralph Votapek will be the featured piano soloist. Votapek's previous accomplishments, include winning the first ever Van Cliburn Piano Competition in 1962, as well as performing with approximately 100 major orchestras, including the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Music director Harold Bauer has also had a past experience with Votapek. The two went to Northwestern University together. Bauer claimed Votapek was a "brilliant student."

Bauer believes that the out for the rest of the season "looks exciting." He claims the orchestra "is in its best shape ever," and "is rarin' to go."

There will be six concerts in all, with more guest soloists.

The line-up for the 90-91 seasons includes: Beethoven Five, A Night in Spain, The Great Rachmaninov, Orchestra Night, Americana, Mozart and Mahler.

Tickets and subscriptions are available through the Arts Center ticket office. Call (708) 858-3110 for more information.

The New Philharmonic Orchestra opens its 1990-91 season in the Arts Center this Friday and Saturday nights, with performances of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony and Fifth Piano Concerto on the program.

Take Your Degree . . . Personally

You can get a high-quality education without sacrificing personal attention at Illinois Benedictine College.

IBC is the state's top-ranked four year college in the percent of graduates who go on for doctorate degrees. An excellent indication of how well we attract talented students and help them reach their goals. You'll also like the way our experienced, highly-qualified faculty takes a personal interest in your success.

Our scholarships and financial aid program help make the advantages of our private-college education affordable . . . and our location in southwest DuPage County near I-88 and the new North-South Tollway puts you in the middle of the suburban business corridor.

So before you settle on a "big" university, give us the chance to get personal. Call for information or a campus visit.

BECOME A GREAT PHILOSOPHER!

YOU'VE STUDIED ALL THE FAMOUS PHILOSOPHERS IN COLLEGE. THE NEXT STEP IS TO ADD YOURSELF TO THEIR RANKS. YOUR NAME WILL LIVE IN HISTORY!

PLATO BELIEVED THE ABSTRACT IDEAL IS THE TRUEST REALITY.

DESCARTES SAID, "I THINK, THEREFORE I AM."

MAXISM POSITED THAT HUMAN ACTION IS MOTIVATED BY SOCIOECONOMICS.

HOW HARD CAN IT BE?

JUST WRITE DOWN WHAT YOU THINK ABOUT LIFE, THE WORLD, HUMAN BEHAVIOR, ETC., IN A THICK BORING BOOK AND GIVE IT A REALLY HIGH FALUTIN TITLE, LIKE "THE STRUCTURE OF REASON," "SOCIALIZATION AND THOUGHT," OR "A TREATISE ON THE RELEVANCE OF LOGIC."

JEAN TETRONISM: "IF YOU REALLY WANT SOMETHING IN LIFE, I THINK YOU'LL GET IT - IF YOU WORK REALLY HARD AT IT."

JUDY FIEBERMANISM: "I THINK PEOPLE ARE GENERALLY PRETTY NICE INSIDE, IF YOU GIVE 'EM HALF A CHANCE."

NICK WALSHISM: "I GUESS I BELIEVE IN GOD, I DON'T KNOW I GUESS HE'LL FIND OUT WHEN WE DIE."

TERRY DUNBYISM: "I LOVE HORSES!"

AND SOMEDAY YOUR PHILOSOPHY WILL BE TAUGHT IN COLLEGE CLASSES ALONG SIDE THE GREAT THINKERS OF HISTORY...

Soccer team kicks off season with a 6-3 start

By Emma Anzalone

This season's soccer team is one of the most talented teams CD has seen in a long time. Although the Chaparrals have only four returning players, the CD soccer team appears to be one of the favorites in region and Midwest District play this season.

CD hosted the DuPage Classic recently, where they annihilated Lincoln Land Community College 6-2. Brian Mokry scored two goals, while Juan Carranza, Chris Byrne, Ray Meijer, and Pat Conlon checked in for one goal each.

The Chaps also played Belleville Area College at the Classic. Although Carranza scored two goals and Byrne one, CD lost 4-3 on a penalty kick.

The Chaps then went on the road to combat Triton. Triton was winning, when an assistant coach from Triton struck a referee and the game was awarded to the Chaps 1-0. Next, CD's soccer team traveled to Kishwaukee College, where they were defeated 2-1.

Head Coach Jimmy Kelly has been skeptical of his team's fighting attitude, and believes that lack of a lengthy pre-season may be one cause.

"We've had only two weeks to prepare. I'd like about two months," Kelly said. "Any game soon, they'll begin to fight, and whoever we're playing that day will be on the wrong end of a defeat."

That day was last Saturday's home match against Bethany. The final score of 1-0 was the result of Byrne's goal early in the second half. Newcomer Martin Gollogly recorded the assist for Byrne.

"He (Martin) completely turned the forward line into an aggressive forward line," assistant coach Mario Reda said. "You may see some surprises from this kid."

This year's favorite is forward Byrne. Described by Kelly as "the best we have," Byrne has played an outstanding season. The sophomore, who was an All-Region IV first team selection last year, has been the scoring force behind many of the victories this year.

"He's very talented, he hustles, he does what is necessary. He's a highly skilled player," Kelly said.

The Chaps will complete unfinished business against arch-rival Triton College on CD turf on October 6.

"Triton's in for a big surprise," Reda said.

Lady Chaps winners at tennis

by James T. Rendulich

After much concern earlier in the season over not having enough players to keep the team competitive in doubles play, head tennis coach Dave Webster has filled out his roster and sees the team as having a bright outlook.

"We have a talented group and a good mix of sophomores and freshmen," Webster said.

The returning sophomores for Webster are Julie Onnezi, Gwen Hughes and Kara Fritz. Both Hughes and Fritz are coming off seasons for which they were named to the second team All-North Central Community College Conference.

This year's freshmen are Anne Barclay, Courtney Deutsch, and latecomers Julie Rice and Karen Wiggins.

When assessing his team's performance to date, Webster believes that his team is in the upper half of the teams that they have played and is playing quite well right now.

"We have improved our records against some of the tougher teams in the conference and we have a win against Harper who is probably the toughest team that we have played so far," Webster said.

Webster concedes that at this point the team's singles play is stronger than its doubles play, however he hopes that changes before the season progresses much further.

Looking forward, Webster stresses that they still have two very tough games coming up against Joliet and Illinois Valley who are both very tough and in the same division as CD.

As far as predictions, Webster believes he and the team will be successful if they accomplish what he thinks they are capable of achieving.

"I think we will make a strong finish but what the team is capable of right now, I just don't know," he said.

Webster is satisfied with the self-improvement the team has made so far; however he believes that the team must be ready for a challenge and must play their best tennis in the important matches and especially in the state tournament.

However, even if the team falls short of winning the state tournament, Webster believes that his players can get a great deal out of playing on the team.

Two things that Webster tries to impress upon his players is to have and play with enthusiasm while still having fun.

In addition, Webster believes that tennis teaches an important lesson about life in that you cannot always win. Sometimes a player can play a great match and still lose.

"People may be able to beat you but they can never defeat you," Webster said.

The women's tennis team steps into action again today at the N4C Conference and tomorrow at the tennis championship at Joliet Community College.

CD wins all-sports trophy

For the third year in a row, and sixth year out of the last 11, CD sports teams in 1989-90 won the coveted North Central Community College Conference Ed Yonkus All-Sports Trophy, which is awarded annually to the conference school whose men's and women's teams achieve the highest point totals in competition.

CD maintains its lock on the traveling trophy by winning the men's competition with 33 1/2 points, and placing second in women's sports with 22 points for a total of 55 1/2 points. Teams are awarded points on placement in conference competition.

Triton College, which has won the award five times, is the only other N4C school to lay claim to the trophy.

Illinois Valley Community College placed second to CD in 1989-90 with 43 points;

Moraine Valley Community College was third with 39, Harper College, Triton, 29 1/2; Rock Valley Community College, 25; and Joliet Junior College, 22.

"We've always been strong in men's competition, but we haven't been as dominant in women's sports," CD Athletic Director Herb Salberg said, "but we've made great inroads in women's competition. We missed placing first in the all-sports women's division by 1 1/2 points. This trophy is a tribute to our coaches who recruit and develop the players."

The trophy was recently renamed in honor of Yonkus, the former athletic director and football coach at Triton, who died recently.

CD Notes

Wrestling

All students interested in trying out for the wrestling team can have their physicals administered October 10 in IC 2001. Appointments are necessary and can be made through Val Burke, ext. 2154. The cost of the physical is $6.

Diving

CD has named Jim Watson to be the new head diving coach for the upcoming winter season. In 1980 Watson won the Illinois State Diving Championship and in 1984 was named as the most valuable diver on the Southern Illinois University diving team. Since graduating from SIU in 1984, Watson has been the head diving coach at Illinois Benedictine College.

Any students wishing to try out for the CD diving team need to attend a try-out October 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the pool.

SPORTS REPORT

Chaps football team stands at 4-1

by James T. Rendulich

Although the CD gridders come into this season lacking a majority of the nucleus of players that made last year's team so successful, the team is off to swift 4-1 start.

Last year's team not only captured the flags of the North Central Community College Conference and the Region IV championship but also walloped Waldorf College (Ia.) 20-6 and won the National Royal Crown Cola Bowl.

In addition to following such an outstanding season, this year's team has to fill the shoes of some outstanding individual performers, like record-setting quarterback Curt Miller and All-Americans Randy Winter and Mike Bystol.

However, so far, this year's team has met the challenge head on and has showed that it has a great deal of talent and potential.

Head football coach Bob MacDougall said that this year's squad is made up of, "a good nucleus of sophomores", and a freshmen group that is, "as good a class as we've ever had."

The team got off in good fashion when they opened up the season by demolishing Rock Valley Community College 34-0. In 40-degree heat, sophomore quarterback Myron Nichols was 6 of 8 with two touchdowns passing. He also rushed for a team-leading 52 yards.

The next test for the team came against the division rival Triton Trojans. Although the offense wasn't nearly as prodigious as it was against Rock Valley the defense held the Trojans to 196 total yards as CD triumphed 14-0.

In the third game of the season the team may have faced their biggest disappointment of the young season by losing a heartbreaker to Harper College 17-15.

Despite playing a respectable game on both sides of the ball, the team fell short mostly due to the offense and especially the kicking game not being able to execute at crucial times.

"We had opportunities, we just didn't take advantage of them," MacDougall said.

CD's tough defense held the Joliet Hawks offense to 210 total yards in their 16-7 victory last week.

and still maintains the one-game lead that they captured by defeating CD.

After losing such a close game to a division rival, the team could have been susceptible to a letdown, instead, they scored two resounding victories against the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh Titans junior varsity squad and Joliet Junior College.

Against the Titans, CD thundered for 442 yards on the ground and held the Titans to a scant four yards in the second half as they coasted to a 45-0 victory.

Although Joliet provided a greater challenge than the Titans, MacDougall's squad nearly doubled the Wolves in total yards and emerged from Joliet with a 16-7 win.

At this point in the season, MacDougall says that he is definitely pleased with the play of the defense and the offensive line. MacDougall said that against Joliet the offensive line played their best game.

"It just goes to show what can happen when people put their hats on the right people and block," he said.

An area in which MacDougall is not pleased is the kicking game.

"Our field goal kickers have been inconsistent and have not showed a great deal of consistency or quality," MacDougall said. "However the kids have a lot of heart, have put in a lot of work, and I believe they have and will continue to improve."

On a broader scale, MacDougall believes that the areas that his team needs to improve in, however he sees progress and is mostly pleased.

Although the Chaps are a full game behind the first place Harper Hawks MacDougall believes that "we're doing exactly what we have to do to catch Harper right now."

In addition to believing that his team doesn't have to take a back seat to anybody MacDougall predicts that "when the bell rings in November, we will be ready."

The CD football team next steps into action tomorrow, at home against always tough Illinois Valley. Kick-off is scheduled for 1 p.m.

Despite 245 total yards and a solid defensive effort, CD suffered its first and only loss to Harper Community College, 17-15.

Women's cross country team pursues 10th straight N4C title

Trip to North Carolina for national championship in sight

by Katie Fossler

"If we work hard and stay healthy, we will achieve our goal," head cross country coach Mike Considine said, holding his breath as the Chaparral cross country team looks toward the season's climax—a chance to capture a 10th straight Region IV Championship.

Competing against four-year schools, Considine's runners provided a promising effort at last week's University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Invite. Though a slow course provided a uphill battle, the squad finished 10th out of 15 teams. Rick Hornstrom (Elgin) led the team with a time of 27:57. Sophomore Eric Gevin (Naperville) followed at 27:58.

Coach Considine believes that the early season meets, like the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Invite, provide a practice ground for the important challenges that lie ahead.

The team of 12 runners, with five returning sophomores and two spirited freshmen, show an excellent balance of experience and youth to meet the heat of the opponent.

"There's a good chemistry," Considine said. "They're working hard."

With such an exerting sport, positive team attitude and individual discipline are essential. The body is placed under loads of stress each day. Exhaustion is a given. The attitude that gives away first loses.

"In cross country, it all boils down to attitude," Considine said. "They all need to put forth a solid effort."

Considine stresses team support. His competitors must "key-off teammates" by running together in meets.

The Chaparrals will compete in the Loyola Lakefront Invitational October 6.

The Region IV Championship is set for November 3 at Waubensee Community College in Sugar Grove. A victory qualifies the champs for the finale—a trip to the nationals in North Carolina.

Volleyball team seeks big finish after slow 6-12 start

by Missy Kurns

At the halfway point in their season, this year's women's volleyball team has a conference record of 1-2 and an overall record of 6-12. Most recently, at the Rock Valley Tournament, the team came out 1-2.

Although the team's current record is not particularly impressive, Head volleyball coach LuAnn Zimmick still has a good outlook for the team. Zimmick feels that the team has a better than average chance at finishing near the top of the conference and ultimately making it to the regional competition in early November.

Returning from last year's team, which finished third in the North Central Community College Conference with a record of 19-26-3, Zimmick has only Kerri Spoden, Gina Massetti, and Monica Stepanek.

Zimmick feels confident with her team.

"The whole team contributes equally," she said. "Each member is an all around player, especially in the defense."

Some areas in which Zimmick sees a need for improvement are the team's ability to communicate on the court and regroup as a team when behind.

Heading into this weekend, the Chaps will be playing in the Illinois Central tournament October 5 and 6. Their next home game will be October 9 against North Central(JV) at 5 p.m.
