

The Prairie Light Review

Volume 42 | Number 2

Article 17

Spring 5-1-2020

On a Summer's Day

Shiann Everett
College of DuPage

Follow this and additional works at: <https://dc.cod.edu/plr>

Recommended Citation

Everett, Shiann (2020) "On a Summer's Day," The Prairie Light Review. Vol. 42 : No. 2 , Article 17.
Available at: <https://dc.cod.edu/plr/vol42/iss2/17>

This Selection is brought to you for free and open access by the College Publications at DigitalCommons@COD. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Prairie Light Review by an authorized editor of DigitalCommons@COD. For more information, please contact orenick@cod.edu.

On a Summer's Day

Shiann Everett

Sun-kissed like a summer's day,
the hot air blows against my skin,
sweat drops line down my nose
in a perfect formation.

The ocean sounds bring in waves, bursts of true bliss and agony crashing through my blood and veins as I take it all in.

Creating a false reality, to make sense of what I see wanting the images in my head to be the life I long for.

To be as warm as the sand I lay upon,
as calm as the sound of tides rushing in.
To breathe without the shake,
to feel without the pain.

The Shell

Megha Jain