

The Prairie Light Review

Volume 44
Number 1 Fall 2021

Article 66

Fall 12-1-2021

Memories

Manuela Scolaro
College of DuPage

Follow this and additional works at: <https://dc.cod.edu/plr>

Recommended Citation

Scolaro, Manuela (2021) "Memories," The Prairie Light Review. Vol. 44 : No. 1 , Article 66.
Available at: <https://dc.cod.edu/plr/vol44/iss1/66>

This Artwork is brought to you for free and open access by the College Publications at DigitalCommons@COD. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Prairie Light Review by an authorized editor of DigitalCommons@COD. For more information, please contact orenick@cod.edu.

Dementia

Bittersweet memories.

A fire in my soul, yearning for who I once was.

Days, months, years have gone by.

All now I can see is a blurred image of what used to be.

What used to be a free mind is now trapped.

Memories are supposed to last a lifetime.

This is not true.

Words fade, and photos burn.

What was and what is will never cross paths again.

I can't remember my first love's name.

My mother's face is not clear.

My father made me an angry person but now my silence controls me instead.

They are all gone from this life and from my mind.

I sit here alone.

Strangers give me pills.

I don't know what they're for.

They call my name, but I don't respond.

- Kaitlyn Riley

Memories. Mixed Media on Paper. Manuela Scolaro