

The Prairie Light Review

Volume 44
Number 2 Spring 2022

Article 56

Spring 5-1-2022

I Don't Need a Face

Matthew Kimball
College of DuPage

Follow this and additional works at: <https://dc.cod.edu/plr>

Recommended Citation

Kimball, Matthew (2022) "I Don't Need a Face," The Prairie Light Review. Vol. 44: No. 2, Article 56.
Available at: <https://dc.cod.edu/plr/vol44/iss2/56>

This Selection is brought to you for free and open access by the College Publications at DigitalCommons@COD. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Prairie Light Review by an authorized editor of DigitalCommons@COD. For more information, please contact orenick@cod.edu.

Snow Shadows, Jim Water

I Don't Need a Face
Matthew Kimball

The things that I have beared witness,
To the annoyance of ears we call noises.
And the smells too.
I have decided that I no longer require this face.
For it no longer makes do.

I wish I could wipe away my face.
Ocean eyes and rose petal lips shall be erased.
Be gone with my emotions and my race.
I will not care if you avert your gaze.
Nor do I deserve gentle grace.

No more shall I see the grayish hues.
Or show my terrible blues.
For I grow tired of all of the bad news.
No reactions or words, only blankness.
The paranoia has overtaken and left me anxious.
Do you feel nervous of my non-existent gaze?
For I grow tired of my ugly face.