Letter from the editor

Dear Readers,

I learned quite a lot through four semesters of PLR. From writing itself, to learning how the publishing world works, to working with different sets of people in making a new and better magazine every semester. Our task is not only choosing the work that our magazine publishes, but also how to present the work of District 502 in a professional way. In the end you have the work and creativity of not just the College of DuPage and surrounding community but also 10 students and 1 very patient advisor.

I'll miss this group of people, and I have a few last words:

Nitwit
Blubber
Oddment
Tweak
small micdrop
